Quanta Services Names Gerard Sonnier General Counsel

HOUSTON, March 14, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Quanta Services, Inc. (NYSE: PWR) today announced that Gerard Sonnier has joined the company as vice president and general counsel. Sonnier, 54, comes to Quanta after serving as vice president, assistant general counsel, litigation and chief Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) compliance officer with Waste Management, Inc. There, Sonnier provided strategic litigation leadership and was responsible for developing and implementing Waste Management's FCPA compliance program.

"Gerard brings a breadth of experience and legal expertise from Fortune 200 and energy companies to Quanta," said Jim O'Neil, president and chief executive officer of Quanta Services, Inc. "He has extensive contract management and enterprise risk management experience, and we are pleased to have Gerard leading our legal team as Quanta continues to grow and leverage its leadership position in the energy infrastructure markets we serve."

Sonnier brings three decades of broad-based experience in both general counsel and chief compliance officer roles with two Fortune 200 companies. Prior to joining Waste Management, Inc., he served as acting general counsel and chief compliance counsel with Baker Hughes Incorporated, one of the world's largest oilfield services companies. Prior to that he worked in private practice with several law firms over the course of 15 years where he represented and advised many energy and oilfield clients in a wide variety of complex legal matters.

Sonnier received his Juris Doctor degree (cum laude) from Tulane University School of Law and his Bachelor of Arts degree in economics from the University of Colorado. He is a member of the Louisiana and Texas State Bar Associations, a member of the Bar Association of the Federal Fifth Circuit, a member of the Maritime Law Association of the United States and was on the Board of Directors of the Houston General Counsel Forum.
