QUANTA STATEMENT ON DELAWARE COURT DECISION

HOUSTON - MAY 10, 2002 - Quanta Services, Inc. (NYSE:PWR), a leading provider of specialized contracting services to the electric power, gas, telecommunications and cable television industries, today issued the following statement commenting on the Delaware Chancery Court's ruling denying Aquila's application for a preliminary injunction against the voting of the shares in Quanta's Stock Employee Compensation Trust ("SECT").

Said John R. Colson, chief executive officer of Quanta, "We are pleased that the Court has denied the preliminary injunction that Aquila sought. The SECT links employee interests with those of our stockholders and provides Quanta greater financial flexibility. While this is just a preliminary ruling, we are confident that when the full record of the Board's careful deliberations is put before the Court, the validity of the SECT will be upheld."

"Quanta remains committed to protecting the interests of all of its stockholders and continues to urge all stockholders to sign, date and return the white proxy card in support of Quanta's Board."

Quanta announced the formation of the SECT, which holds 8 million shares of common stock to fund a portion of the Company's benefit obligations during the next 15 years, on March 14, 2002.

Quanta Services, Inc. is a leading provider of specialized contracting services, delivering end-to-end network solutions for electric power, gas, telecommunications and cable television industries. The company's comprehensive services include designing, installing, repairing and maintaining network infrastructure nationwide.
